AEG Creates AET Website and Develops Unique Member Marketing Program

OAK CREEK, WIS., MAY 6, 2017 – Association Executives Group (AEG) announces that they have completed a new website for Association of Educational Therapists (AET). AEG also worked with AET to redesign their website and the AET brand. The new site is built on the Joomla content management system. Previously their site was developed in pure HTML. AEG also redesigned the AET brand including their marketing materials, newsletter template, and publication design.

The company also developed a Member Marketing Program to assist Educational Therapists in marketing their practices. The new program helps members of AET fulfill their marketing goals with professional, cost-effective brochures, websites, and direct marketing materials. The materials come loaded with targeted content that has been approved AET which establishes members' professional reputation within the field of educational therapy.
