AEG Announces An Expansion Through Purchase of a Local Agency's Assets

OAK CREEK, WI, April 14, 2016 – Association Executives Group (AEG) and its sister company, Harris Marketing Group, announce their recent purchase of the assets and contracts of a local association management agency. As a result of the expansion, AEG and Harris Marketing Group have moved their headquarters from Wales, WI to Oak Creek, WI, in order to be more centrally located to the Milwaukee Metro area. The expansion was in the works since the end of 2015, with the finalization and move occurring in mid March. The combination of the staff from these two companies brings a high level of talent and expertise to the association management industry. This creates the opportunity to reach into many different organizations and enhance the services provided to current clients.

Association Executives Group serves the nonprofit association and foundation community. Their commitment to growing and supporting these organizations is what initially brought the two companies together. AEG's values, principles, beliefs in traditional business etiquette and full commitment to client service made this expansion an obvious decision. Their complementary expertise and shared vision for the future made this a perfect fit.

AEG brings more than 30 years of experience in association management, membership growth, event planning, technology and marketing. The ability to utilize marketing services and this expertise to those association clients will be a unique offering that will propel AEG into the forefront of the association management industry.

Association Executives Group, located in Oak Creek, Wisconsin, is a multi-disciplinary, woman-owned association management company in business in the local area for more than 30 years.
